

Arboricultural Research Information Notes Title Index

Number	Title & Author	First Issued
1/91	Control of conker formation, by D Patch & F Stevens	1978
2/96	Breeding elms resistant to Dutch elm disease, by D A Burdekin & K D Rushforth (revised by J F Webber)	1978
3/78*	A seed wasp affecting the wild service tree ( Sorbus torminalis ) by T G Winter
4/78*	Arboricultural research into the production and establishment of amenity trees, by H Insley (withdrawn)
5/87	Plastic mesh tree guards, by H W Pepper	1979
6/79*	Pruning wounds and decay, by P C Mercer (Superseded by 28)
7/79*	Oak wilt, by D A Burdekin (superseded by Forest Record 126 Oak wilt)
8/79	Damage to broadleaved seedlings by desiccation, by H Insley
9/79*	The clones of leyland cypress, by J Jobling
10/79*	Anthraco-nose of London plane, by D A Burdekin & C W T Young (Superseded by 46)
11/82	Insect pests - What kind of control? By D Bevan	1979
12/89	Summer branch drop, by K D Rushforth	1979
13/94	English elm regeneration, by B J W Greig	1979
14/96*	The effects of trees on television reception, by BBC & IBA Engineering Information Departments (Superseded by 146)
15/79*	Chemical defoliation of hardy nursery stock, by H Insley (Superseded by 31)
16/82	Decay and disintegration of dead elms, by J N Gibbs & D Patch	1979
17/80*	Northofaguss, by G Tuley & K D Rushforth (superseded by Forest Record 122 : Northofagus in Britain)
18/87	The detection of decay in trees with particular reference to the use of the 1980 Shigometer, by P C Mercer (revised by D Lonsdale)

* Notes no longer in circulation. Available for research only

Number	Title & Author	First Issued
19/80*	Foliar nutrient levels in lime, by H Insley & J B H Gardiner
20/82	Bacterial wetwood, by J Rishbeth	1980
21/88	Coppice, by R E Crowther & D Patch (revised by J Evans & HL Davies)	1980
23/80*	How much wood for the stove? By R E Crowther & D Patch
24/80*	Tree roots and foundations, by E R C Reynolds (superseded by 108&142)
25/80*	Canker stain of plane, by D A Burdekin
26/80*	Eucalyptus in Britain, by J Evans (Superseded by Forestry Commission Booklet 50: A key to Eucalyptus in Britain and Ireland ñ with notes on growing Eucalyptus in Britain)
27/95	Herbicides for sward control among broadleaved amenity trees, by W J McCavish & H Insley (revised by I Willoughby)	1980
28/81*	The treatment of tree wounds, by PC Mercer (superseded by 48, 116 & 117)
29/81	The native and exotic trees in Britain, by A F Mitchell
30/81*	Grass control using 'Herbon lignum granules' by W J McCavish
31/81*	Chemical defoliation of hardy nursery stock 2, by H Insley
32/83*	Centatotect - a fungicide treatment for Dutch elm disease by B J W Greig	1981
33/81*	The improvement of birch for forestry and amenity, by I R Brown & D Kennedy
34/81*	Selection of species for planting over domestic refuse, by H Insley, I H Blackmore & T E Roberts (Withdrawn)
35/81*	Winter shelter for agricultural stock, by D Patch & R Lines
36/97	Tree roots and underground pipes, by G Brennan, D Patch & F R W Stevens (revised by D Patch)	1981

- Notes no longer in circulation. Available for research only.

Number	Title & Author	First Issued
38/84	Reclamation of surface workings for trees II. Nitrogen nutrition, by W O Binns & D F Fourt	1981
37/84	Reclamation of surface workings for trees I. Landforms and cultivation, by W O Binns & D F Fourt	1981
39/90	Coryneum canker of monterey cypress and related trees, by R G Strouts	1982
40/89	Tree staking, by D Patch	1983
41/82*	Trees after winter ñ an interim report, by D Patch & R G Strouts
42/82*	Shelter for improving the growth of young trees, by G Tuley (Superseded by 49)
43/87*	Rabbit control - Phostoxin, by H W Pepper(Withdrawn)
44/83	The effects of tree species in vegetation and nutrient supply in lowland Britain, by M A Anderson
45/83	Cobweb fungus - Athelia, by D R Rose
46/91	Anthracoise of London plane, by R G Strouts	1983
47/92	Crown damage to London plane, by J N Gibbs
48/83	A definition of the best pruning, by D Lonsdale
49/83*	Shelter improve the growth of young trees, 1982 results, by G Tuley (Superseded by 63)
50/89	Nutrition of broadleaved amenity trees: - Foliar sampling and analysis for determining nutrient status, by W O Binns, H Insley & J B H Gardener	1983
51/84*	Ash dieback survey: summer 1983, by R G Pawsey (superseded by Forestry Commission Bulletin 93: Ash dieback - a survey of non-woodland)
52/84*	Nutrition of broadleaved amenity trees II. Fertilizers, by D Patch, W O Binns & D F Fourt
53/90	Chemical weeding - Hand held direct applicators, by P B Lane	1984
54/89	Control of epicormic shoots on amenity trees, by D Patch, M A Coutts & J Evans	1984
55/84	The Knopper gall, by M R Jukes
56/95	Dormant tree seeds and their pre (sowing) treatment, by P G Gosling	1984

- Notes no longer in circulation. Available for research only.

Number	Title & Author	First Issued
57/94	The brown-tail moth, by P H Sterling	1985
58/95	Phytophthora root disease, by R G Strouts	1985
59/89	The effects of weed competition on tree establishment, by R J Davies & J B H Gardiner	1985
60/88	Oak defoliation, by T G Winter	1986
61/96	Fungicide treatment for control of Dutch elm Disease, by B J W Greig	1985
62/85*	Beech health study, by D Lonsdale & J N Gibbs (superseded by 70)
63/87	Treeshelters, by J Evans & C Shanks	1985
64/86	Rough handling reduces the viability of planting stock, by P M Tabbush
65/86*	Alternatives to Simonize for weed control in transplant lines and shrubberies at time of planting, by J S P Sale & D N Skinner
66/86	Planting success rates in standard trees, by D N Skinner
67/87	A comparison of the survival and growth of transplants, whips and standards, with and without weed control, by R J Davies
68/90	Lightning damage to trees in Britain, by D R Rose	1987
69/87	Do soil ameliorants help tree establishment? by R J Davies
70/87*	Surveys of tree health 1987, by J L Innes (superseded by 90)
71/87	Black polythene mulches to aid tree establishment, by R J Davies
72/87	Sheet mulches: suitable materials and how to use them, by R J Davies
73/90	Treatment of storm-damage trees, by D Lonsdale	1987
74/93	Protecting trees from field voles, by R J Davies & H W Pepper	1987
75/88	Alginure root dip and tree establishment, by R J Davies
76/94	Sewage sludge as a fertilizer in a amenity and reclamation plantings, by A J Moffat	1988
77/89	Stakes and ties, by D Patch

- Notes no longer in circulation. Available for research only.

Number	Title & Author	First Issued
78/89	Marssonina canker and leaf spot (Anthracnose) of weeping willow, by D R Rose
79/89	Scab and black canker of willow, by D R Rose
80/89	Cypress and juniper aphids, by T G Winter
81/90	Ivy - boon or bane? By J E J White & D Patch, superseded by APN10	1989
82/89*	Demonstration plots for amenity tree establishment and farm woodlands, by C J Potter (Withdrawn)
83/90*	Surveys of tree condition, by J L Innes (superseded by FC Health survey Bulletin)	1990
84/90	The ultimate spread of trees grown in towns, by S J Hodge & J E J White
85/90	Propagation of lowland willows by winter cuttings, by J E J White & D Patch
86/90	Organic soil amendments for tree establishment, by S J Hodge
87/90	Watermark disease of willows, by K N Patrick
88/90	Inoculation of alder seedlings to improve seedling growth and field performance by J D McNeill, M R Hollilingsworth, W L Mason, A J Moffat, L J Sheppard C T Wheeler
89/92	Bats and trees, by B A Mayle	1990
90/90	The establishment of trees in new hedgerows, by S J Hodge
91/90	The establishment of trees in existing hedgerows, by S J Hodge
92/90	The use of water retentive materials in tree pits, by S J Hodge & T J Walmsley
93/90	The influence of nursery spacing in outplanting performance of amenity trees, J Hodge
94/91	Dieback of the flowering cherry prunus 'Kanzani', by R G Strouts
95/91	The management of ancient beech pollards in wood pastures, by H G Read, M Frater & I S Turney
96/91	Diagnosis of de-icing salt damage to trees, by M C Dobson
97/91	Amenity tree planting with bare-root stock, by S J Hodge
98/91	Cell grown broadleaved stock, by S J Hodge

* Notes no longer in circulation. Available for research only.

Number	Title & Author	First Issued
99/91	Tolerance of trees and shrubs to de-icing salt, by M C Dobson
100/91	Prevention and amelioration of de-icing salt damage to trees, by M C Dobson
101/91	Pine shoot beetles and ball-rooter semi-mature pines, by T G Winter
102/91	Improving the growth of established amenity trees: site physical conditions by S J Hodge
103/91	Improving the growth of established amenity trees; fertilizer and weed control, by S J Hodge
104/92	Lime trees and aphids, by C I Carter
105/92	Occurrence of decline and dieback of oak in Great Britain, by B J W Greig
106/95*	Japanese knotweed in amenity areas, by C Hawke & D R Williamson (Superseded by 150)
107/92	Blight to trees caused by vegetation control machinery by D Patch & A Denyer
108/92	Tree roots and foundations, by P G Biddle (superseded by 142)
109/92	Treatment of tree wounds, by D Lonsdale
110/93	Water tables and trees, by D R Helliwell
111/92	Bleeding canker of Caucasian lime (tilia x euchlora), by J N Gibbs
112/93	Nutrient injection into trees, by S J Hodge
113/93	Compresses air soil injection around amenity trees, by S J Hodge
114/93*	Trials of organic backfill amendments on truck road sites, by S J Hodge
115/93	Using steel rode to asses aeration in urban soils, by S J Hodge
116/93	Choosing the time of etargetí pruning versus flush cats and stub pruning, by D Lonsdale
117/93	Choosing the time of year to prune trees, by D lonsdale
118/94	Fireblight of ornamental trees and shrubs, by R G Strouts
119/94	De-icing salt damage to trees - the current position, by J N Gibbs
120/94	Pre-view cable TV routes, by D Patch

* Notes no longer in circulation. Available for research only.

Number	Title & Author	First Issued
121/94	The health of non-woodland trees in England, 1993, by J N Gibbs	1994
122/94	The horse chestnut scale: a pest of the town, by D Wainhouse
123/94	Wood chips as a mulch or soil amendment, by J F Webber & C M Gee
124/94	The Asian strain gypsy moth, Lymantria dispar : A significant threat to trees, by T G Winter & H F Evans
125/94	Cold storage of broadleaved nursery stock, by G Kerr & C Harper
126/94	Assessing the quality of broadleaved nursery stock, by G Kerr & C Harper
127/94	The role of tree mechanics in hazard tree evaluation, by D Lonsdale
128/95	Comparison of cell-grown and barerooted broadleaved nursery stock for amenity and forest planting, by G Kerr & R Jinks
129/95	The health of non-woodland amenity trees in England 1994, by R G Strouts (Superseded by 133, 136, 140, & 147)	1995
130/95	Tree root systems, by M Dobson
131/95	The management of ancient pollarded trees, by D Lonsdale
132/96	Ozone effects on trees, by J N B Bell
133/96	The health of non-woodland amenity trees in England, by R G Strouts (updated by 136)
134/96	Forces exerted by tree roots, by R D MacLeod & W J Cram
135/96	The improvement of urban air quality by trees, by P H Freer-Smith & M S J Broadmeadow
136/96	The health of non-woodland amenity trees in England 1996, by S Gregory D R Rose, J N Gibbs & T G Winter (updated by 140)	1996
137/97	Tree age assessment, by S R Abbott, R W Matthews & J M Methley
138/97	Street tree root architecture and pavement damage, by B C Nicoll & A Armstrong
139/97	Sensitivity of broadleaved trees to desiccation and rough handling between lifting and transplanting, by C McEvoy & H McKay

* Notes no longer in circulation. Available for research only.

Number	Title & Author	First Issued
140/97	The health of non-woodland trees in England in 1997, by S C Gregory, G A MacAskill, D R Rose, J N Gibbs & C A Tilbury (updated by 147)	1997
141/98	Barriers against tree roots - an experimental investigation, by A J Moffat, N A D Bending & M C Dobson
142/98	Tree roots and foundations, by P G Biddle
143/98	Deflection of tree roots by rigid barriers, by B C Nicoll & M P Coutts
144/98	Detection of decay in trees, by J A Dolwin, D Lonsdale & J Barnett
145/98	Trees, shelter and energy conservation, by D Patch
146/98	The effect of trees in television reception, by BBC Reception Advice, ITC Engineering Policy Departments & The Confederation of Aerial Industries	1979
147/98	The health of non-woodland trees in England in 1998, by J N Gibbs, G A MacAskill, D Lonsdale, D R Rose & C A Tilbury
148/99	Control of tree growth in the urban environment using geotextile fabric bags, by R A Edwards, R N Rowe & M C T Trought
149/99	A sound deterrent for mammals? by N Barnett
150/00	Japanese knotweed in amenity areas, by L Child	1992
151/00	Fireblight of ornamental trees and shrubs, by R D Strouts & D Patch
152/PATH/03	The Health of Non-Woodland Trees in England during 1999-2000 J N Gibbs et al (147/99)	2003
153/PATH/05	The Health of Non-Woodland Trees in England in 2001 & 2002 By K.V.Thorpe, D.R.Rose, J.Rose, C.Tilbury & J.Poole	2006
154/PATH/05	The Health of Non-Woodland Trees in England in 2003 By K.V.Thorpe, J.Poole, D.R.Rose, J.Rose, N. Straw & C.Tilbury	2006